Superintendent Spotlight

Dave L'Italien has long been a superstar of a superintendent, making the already successful Reem's Creek an even bigger success. With the addition of a solid assistant, Dave will be able to move into a more regional role and work his same greens keeping magic on other courses, improving conditions across the board. We hope that his mentorship will provide us with the industry's top professionals and look forward to his continued support.

Toggling Tournaments

Starting with a highly successful Fourth of July picnic, Reems Creek has generated a considerable profit from event and tournament sales during the past month. Capitalizing on the holiday success, Reems was able to book another tournament, the Elks Lodge Tournament, the following week.

Turn out for the Elks Lodge Tournament has prompted a local uproar for events at Reems Creek, which Hartwell Baker has answered with several creative events planned before the end of summer. A Beer Fest and golf tournament planned for the beginning of August will fill the need that locals and members of Reems Creek have and will showcase the club as an event venue and non-profit opportunity.

Weaverville Day

With a high success at last year's Weaverville Day, General Manager Hartwell Baker plans to keep up the momentum and exceed expectations for this year's event set for the end of September. In gearing up for this community building event, Hartwell has been proactive in gathering corporate and local sponsors to donate prizes, and building attendance from within the community.
